

Mark Sullivan

The Spartanburg Downtown Association is a community-based organization that plans, markets, and advocates for Downtown Spartanburg.

The association's goal is to be a guiding force for positive growth and improvement of the downtown area by providing leadership, and marketing as the dynamic center of commerce in the Greater Spartanburg community.

SDA performs services directly related to downtown development, such as promotion and advertising, business retention and recruitment, and planning and problem solving among downtown residents, businesses, property owners, employees, and community leaders.

Mark Sullivan has spent his entire career in franchise/real estate development. After a career on the move from Washington, DC to Houston, Texas, he chose to open the first Blues Boulevard Jazz club (a soon-to-be franchise concept) in his hometown of Spartanburg.

Mark serves on the Board of Directors for The Spartanburg Art Museum and The March of Dimes. Blues Boulevard focuses on charity as well by supporting a local children's charity holding special functions on the last Tuesday of every month.

Mark enjoys dressage riding lessons and he is trying to adopt a child as a single father.

Mark has served on the SDA Board of Directors since 2010.
