The Spartanburg Downtown Association is a community-based organization that plans, markets, and advocates for Downtown Spartanburg.

The association's goal is to be a guiding force for positive growth and improvement of the downtown area by providing leadership, and marketing as the dynamic center of commerce in the Greater Spartanburg community.

SDA performs services directly related to downtown development, such as promotion and advertising, business retention and recruitment, and planning and problem solving among downtown residents, businesses, property owners, employees, and community leaders.

Tammy W. Stokes was born and raised in Spartanburg. After graduating from USC Upstate, she and her husband David (also a Spartanburg native) married and left Spartanburg. After completing graduate school at Appalachian State, they continued to move around the country for almost 6 years and then decided to return home. Now, 10 years later and they couldn't be happier with their decision.

They own a 'fixer-upper' home in Hampton Heights, have 2 children, Jack & Katy and remain dedicated to working hard to see success in Downtown Spartanburg.

Tammy works full-time as the Director of Converse II & Special Programs at Converse College. She serves on the board for the Spartanburg Area Conservancy and is the immediate past president of the Hampton Heights Neighborhood Association. She is the founder of Citizen Spartanburg—a grassroots organization working to promote Spartanburg and increase civic participation in our community.

Tammy has joined the Board of Directors of SDA in 2010.
