The Spartanburg Downtown Association is a community-based organization that plans, markets, and advocates for Downtown Spartanburg.

The association's goal is to be a guiding force for positive growth and improvement of the downtown area by providing leadership, and marketing as the dynamic center of commerce in the Greater Spartanburg community.

SDA performs services directly related to downtown development, such as promotion and advertising, business retention and recruitment, and planning and problem solving among downtown residents, businesses, property owners, employees, and community leaders.

Tim Meade, a Kentucky native, joined Milliken & Co. after graduation as an engineer from the University of Kentucky. His career with Milliken brought him to the Upstate 10 years ago and he has been a downtown Spartanburg resident the past five years. He currently works as a Senior Account Manager in the Performance Products Division of Milliken.

Tim also serves on the Start Up Board for the Hub City Cooperative Market, a venture he expects will open soon and be a key component of the downtown area for years to come.

Tim began his board service to the Spartanburg Downtown Association in June 2011.
