

Tim Satterfield

The Spartanburg Downtown Association is a community-based organization that plans, markets, and advocates for Downtown Spartanburg.

The association's goal is to be a guiding force for positive growth and improvement of the downtown area by providing leadership, and marketing as the dynamic center of commerce in the Greater Spartanburg community.

SDA performs services directly related to downtown development, such as promotion and advertising, business retention and recruitment, and planning and problem solving among downtown residents, businesses, property owners, employees, and community leaders.

Tim Satterfield is a Partner and Broker in Charge of Longleaf Development, LLC - a commercial real estate company in Downtown Spartanburg.

Tim was born and raised in Spartanburg and graduated from the University of South Carolina in Spartanburg. After graduation, he worked for 16 years in the waste management industry for Container Corp of Carolina and later Allied Waste. Tim has spent the last 7 years in real estate, concentrating on downtown development. He is very active in the community and is currently involved with the local Chamber, Leadership Spartanburg, Wofford Terrier Club, Board of Realtors, Lions Club and Historic and Architectural Review Board.

Tim is a member, with his wife Francie and two children, Byrd and Mary Yates, of the Church of the Advent and coaches Hillbrook baseball.

Tim has been a member of the board of SDA since 2003. He served as President from 2005 to 2007.
